Bells Will "Ring For Peace"

At the traditional Memorial Day services in Carmel, the Churches of the Village are cooperating with the American Legion Post 512 by ringing their bells "for peace" for 30 seconds.

At precisely 11:00 a.m. the bell at the World War I archway monument will begin ringing with all the church bells joining this memorial to our boys who lost their lives fighting for peace.

Commander of Post 512 Paul T. Artellan invites all Monterey Peninsula to join in the Memorial Day Services on Tuesday at Devendorf Plaza.

Principal Speakers at the Carmel ceremony will be the Mayor of the City, Stephen Grant; City Administrator Hugh Bayless; Carmel Business Association President August Johnson; and T/Sgt. Robert Gilmour, U.S.A. Ret.

The Carmel High School Band, under the direction of Music Instructor John Farr, will begin the day ceremonies with a concert at 10:05 a.m.

S/Sgt John H. Dreth, United States Army, will be in charge of an eight-man firing squad, all soldiers of A Company, 3rd Battalion, 1st Brigade of Fort Ord. Color Bearers will be Legionnaires James Kelsey, Roland Pilon, Dick Lawitske, and Dick Zimmerman. The Honor Color Bearers will be Fire Chief J. R. Belvail, Police Captain William Ellis, Sheriff Jack Davenport, and an officer of the California Highway Patrol.

Chaplain Major Peter Hoffman of Fort Ord will offer The Memorial Prayer and Benediction. Taps will be played by Carmel High student Greg Sprung. Pack 3, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts of America, under command of Mrs. Robert (Joan) Wahl will each carry two flowers from their home gardens to lay on the Memorials of World War I and World War II in honor of those men and women who gave their lives for America. The Cubs participating are: Jon Benson, Peter Briggs, Loren Criddle, Patrick Grant, Alan Hebert, Mark Holloway, Michael Kearns, Robert Keiner, Paul Laux, Brad Miller, Wayne Miller, David Mills, Ralph O'Neill.

Frank Rudolph, David Shephard, Charles Synder, John Stine, Richard Wall, Kevin Wahl, Brendon Wahl and Jerry Zack.

Spanish American War Veteran

Also participating as an honored guest will be Sgt. Jack Boardman, the last of the Spanish American War Veterans still living in Carmel. The Sgt. served in the 6th Cavalry, United States Army 69 years ago.

Post Commander Frank Girard is in charge of all the sound equipment to be used for the ceremonies. The Legion this year has asked that all the Churches in Carmel, ring their bells at 11:00 a.m. to remind the people that our boys in Vietnam are not forgotten and forsaken today and everyday of the war.

Artellan issued a reminder that part of the Memorial Day observance calls for all business and private homes to display the Flag.

Neighbors Battle

At the Board of Adjustments meeting before the Planning Commission convened, a large holder of Wells Fargo Bank and the Crichton House Properties, in an attempt to construct a fence between their parking lot and Carmel Square was met with resistance on the part of La Marmite Restaurant owner and Mrs. Sue Ferguson, owner of Carmel Square.

The reason for a request to build a stronger fence was based on the fact that delivery and garbage trucks parked in the lot, causing traffic problems on the adjoining streets; "unsightly" refuse put out behind the stores in the Square, and people using the lot for parking while shopping in Carmel Square.

Clyde Herr of La Marmite Restaurant said that he had no control over his customers parking there because most of them walked from the court in which the Crichton House is located to Carmel Square. He added that no one had complained to him about the trucks parking there to make deliveries and pick up garbage. Herr said that had he known of this trouble he would have made certain that it would have been resolved.

Sue Ferguson maintained that people walk and travel through free flow passageways in Carmel and this fence would cut off this flow.

The end result was that plans would be drawn up and submitted to the board for study June 21.

The remainder of the meeting was routine and the Planning Commission began their meeting.

The Commission authorized the City Attorney to draw up an ordinance to freeze the size of the lots on the block of Del Mar and Ocean. They also considered a request by the Flander's Estate attorney to re-zone the estate. The Commission agreed to meet with the attorney to try to zone the lots in large enough plots to preserve the beauty of the area.

The Commission then reviewed the request for sign designs after which they adjourned.

In memory of those who died so that she might know the joys of freedom, Carmel will hold Memorial Day Services on Tuesday at Devendorf Plaza.

School Board Approves Budget

The Carmel Unified School District Board of Education last night voted its unanimous approval of the Preliminary Budget for the school year 1967-68. The Board's action constituted the first of three steps in the final approval of the budget, a projected $2,853,972; by comparison, last year's budget was $2,445,815.

Based on an estimated 5.5% increase in the assessed valuation, the .37 override approved by the electorate on March 7, 1967 amounts to $246,148.

Among the specific items discussed by the Board were the following: under Estimated Income for Budgetary Purposes, Mr. Neil questioned the estimated expenditure of $2,800 for the physically handicapped; Mr. Sassoon the $24,000 for N.D.E.A. Grants; and Dr. Bialek the $35,006 for E.S.E.A. Title I.

Discussion of outlay for instruction centered on expenditures for textbooks and instructional supplies, $8,946 and $87,558, respectively. Mr. Neil raised the question of a turf field at Tularcitos

School, under Capital Outlay.

A light note was sounded by Mr. Neil, who facetiously questioned an Administration outlay of $1,300 for Board expenses. Dr. Taylor "defended" the proposed expenditure as having the purpose of keeping board members in touch with developments in education. Dr. Bialek suggested Hawaii as an area for consideration, to which Dr. Taylor quipped, "There have been some very interesting educational developments in Gonzales."

Other major action by the Board included the approval of a more comprehensive policy of Health and Accident Insurance for Employees; this action was applauded by the audience which was predominantly composed of teachers who agreed to forgo a pay increase, in order to secure the improved coverage. Warmly received was the Board's approval of the proposed reclassification of Classified employees and an increase of one-half step in the classification of nine employees not covered by the (Continued on Page 16)

Summer Treats For Theatregoers

Theatregoers will have many treats in store for themselves this summer as the local theatres produce some of the favorites of all time, performed by exciting young talents from the area, as well as by experienced veterans of the stage.

WHITE OAKS THEATRE

In its second week, "Blithe Spirit," directed by Sally Hughes Church, gives the audience a glimpse into the world of those who have "passed over," highlighted by seven gifted youngsters. "Blithe Spirit" plays Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 and Sunday at 7:30 through June 4th.

Aided and abetted by a meticulously designed set, beautiful costumes and exotic dress, "Blithe Spirit" by Noel Coward, is a comedy everyone will enjoy.

The remaining summer shows at White Oaks will be: "The Knack," "Goldilocks" (a musical), "One Hundred and Ten in the Shade," and the unproduced musical, "Eden Skidoo!" This rounds out what is to be expected a successful season for White Oaks.

CIRCLE THEATRE

The Circle is now involved in attracting additional members, encouraging the purchase of season tickets in advance which will entitle members to seven performances.

Currently playing at the theatre is "Waltz of the Toreadors" which will close June 3, so time to see this production is getting short since they only play on the weekends. Next to be seen will be the Pulitzer Prize winning comedy-drama, "The Subject Was Roses," beginning June 9.

Three uniquely different plays are scheduled to run six nights a week this summer. They are:

LINES FROM

THE STUDIO

After full houses Friday and Saturday, last Sunday's attendance at "Janus" was about the lowest of the season. We submit that "Janus" deserves better of those best able to come on Sunday — our local residents — because it is witty, sophisticated, gay, charming, thought-provoking (we hope that's not against it) and often hilarious. We even question if Margaret Sullivan, Robert Preston and Claude Dauphine in the Broadway original were more entertaining than our brilliant cast. Our splendid dinner has been enhanced by the introduction of a vegetable and the installation of an infra-red lamp to keep the roasts piping hot while Walter carves them to your order. So any Sunday why not make "Janus" a family treat? Dinner and show $5.50, show alone $2.75.

Each year the children perform for parents, grandparents, friends and town dignitaries, dancing both original and folk dances, beginning with the Hokey-Pokey by the kindergarten and ending with the lovely Maypole Dance by the third and fourth grade girls.

This year's festival was enlivened by the introduction of Woods School's first marching band which led the children from their classrooms to the dance area. The choir also sang a folk tune while a group of girls danced an original dance.

Felt Tipped Pen New and Exciting

For over a year now, sketching instructors have been utilizing a new medium which, according to Bernice Huber, teacher at the Carmel Adult School, "adds interest and enthusiasm" to the classes. The use of felt tipped pens afford the inexperienced students the opportunity to add color to their sketches.

Bernice said that pencil sketching often becomes dull for the student and the pens make it much more enjoyable for them while learning fundamentals. Felt pens teach them values and have benefited the classes greatly.

She points out, however, that the beginner must start with pencil, but after a certain point, he can quickly advance to these pens. This is because the pen sketches cannot be erased.

They are not the only ones who find enjoyment from this media. Advanced artists use the pens for quick recording of subject and color notes. "It is much more convenient," says Bernice, "than water colors." They are easier to work with, easier to carry and there is nothing to spill or re-fill. "One can carry an entire supply of pens in a small bag... no brushes... no water... no containers," Bernice added.

Each pen is good for many, many sketches. However, they must be covered or the point will dry out.

They are considered more practical than charcoal for this reason: there is no chance of smudging and the finished sketch does not require spraying to preserve the work.

In the past, many companies have marketed pens of this nature, but only within the past year or so have they afforded the artist with so many colors from which to choose. "Actually, there are over a dozen grays on the market today," Bernice pointed out.

The sketches above, by Bernice Huber, Carmel Adult School teacher, utilizes the medium of felt tipped pens. She teaches the use of these pens in her classes at the Adult School and finds them useful in studying sketching fundamentals.

C. Yuan, and others.

She intends to utilize the new medium this fall when she takes a group of travellers to join internationally famous photographer Larry McKinnis in Honolulu, the jumping off point for an around the world tour.

Bernice says that while McKinnis' student photographers are taking pictures, she and her group will sketch the same subjects. The felt tipped pens can be used instead of pencil or charcoal and will give the travellers a record of color and value. "The medium of felt tipped pens precludes leaks of ink or turpentine in the luggage which makes it ideal for the trip," Bernice said.

The pens are available both in an oil base or a water soluble type, which can quickly be developed into a wash drawing by experienced users.

Bernice pointed out that on the tour there will be both art and photography instruction available. "However," she said, "non-sketchers and non-photographers are welcome to join the group."

The 42nd All-Breed Dog Show at Del Monte

The 1965 and 1966 winner of the Del Monte Dog Show, an Irish Setter owned by William R. Golden of Pacific Palisades, is shown by Walt Shellenberger. Each year, thousands of visitors and participants drive hundreds of miles to attend the only blue ribbon show on the West Coast. There have already been 1610 entries in this year's show scheduled for Sunday, May 28.

The dog show will get underway at 8 a.m. on the lawn between the Del Monte Lodge and the 18th green of the Pebble Beach Golf Links. The 42nd Annual All-Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trial will benefit the Community Center Auxiliary.

A Corgi Dog Contest To Be Held at Valley Club

The 8th Annual Golden Gate Welch Corgi Dog Show will be held at the Carmel Valley Country Club Saturday, May 27 from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. The public is invited.

The only Corgi Dog Show in the World, this event will attract dog handlers and owners from all points, including Canada, Texas, Massachusetts, and New York, as well as California.

Thus far, there have been 128 Corgi entrants, 27 of which are champions. Derek Rayne of Carmel will show his Corgi, (shown here) winner for the past two years. "I'm not too optimistic this year because the hot weather caused my Corgi to shed a great deal," he said.

The Judge for the event will be

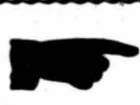

Pat Hewan from Berkshire, England, the home country of this breed of dog.

Walt Disney made a movie for his TV show three years ago showing the Corgi in his habitat. The star of this film will be on hand to be judged along with the other animals.

A new novel by Christopher Isherwood is a psychological short thing entitled A MEETING BY THE RIVER. If the title brings any word picture to your mind, forget it, because it is probably all wrong. The meeting referred to is one between two brothers, long separated, who meet for a few days before the ceremonies which will admit the younger brother into a Hindu monastic order. The older brother, Patrick, is a worldly bisexual business man. The younger brother, Oliver, is a sensitive intellectual. The few days they spend together by the river which runs beside the monastery, are days which serve to change, somewhat, Patrick's outlook on life, and to confirm Oliver's sincere bent toward the contemplative life. It is a well written, holding sort of book.

THE MAN IN THE GLASS BOOTH is an astonishing novel by Robert Shaw. The main character is a fantastically wealthy man named Goldman who had been a prisoner in a concentration camp during the last war. His is a strange story, it's ending so fateful that it will remain with you for some time. This is not a happy, happy book, but rather is it a change from the wishy-washy to the realistic. Strong stuff here.

A FULL HOUSE by Feenie Zinner is the short homespun stuff which goes well this time of year. (If you have a first name like Feenie, you would of course marry a man whose first name was Zeke, and Feenie did just that.) Their first two children were Marc and Joe. Then they had triplets! With five children they moved into a huge old mansion, and Feenie began writing books. This is not an original situation for a book, but it's surefire for gaining readers. So, here you go for summer reading, with A FULL HOUSE.

WILD SEASON by Allan Eckert is a book for the nature lover. It covers wild life in and around a midwestern lake during the month of May. The prologue describes the forming of the lake centuries ago and it's moods and appearances today. Then the book goes on to speak of the various forms of wild life existing today, making a special plea for the harmless snakes and speaking of their great value to the farmers (Continued on Page Eleven)

My most interesting trip? Well, once upon a time, as they say in story books, I took a trip from San Diego to San Francisco, with a side trip to Twenty-Nine Palms. This does not sound too interesting, but have you ever taken a trip with an Irish Setter and a cat—the cat with "turista"?

My husband is in the Navy. At this time he had to take a destroyer to Hunter's Point Naval Shipyard for overhaul. So, he got a house; said "Come on up." I packed and there we were on the road! It seemed like a good idea to see friends at the Marine Corps base at Twenty-Nine Palms. So after my usual hassle with packing, ("Let's see, we'll put the dog food here and—Oh My Goodness—the suitcase is all filled up—Where are the paper sacks?") the old car was on the road, luckily with us in it!

By this time it was rather late. We drove to Riverside, took off to the desert; refrained from taking the tempting road to Palm Springs, and by dark we were headed toward the High Desert. We had no problem on the road to Twenty-Nine Palms, even though people said later "you drove that road in the DARK?" If it were a bad road, I am very glad I didn't see it!

There was a bit of a struggle to get through the gate at the Marine Corps base. No one seemed to have heard of our friends. Much discussion with various sentries went on—finally I took matters and the telephone into my own hands and after looking at a telephone book and calling information and then speaking to my host and hostess, who came down to escort me to their home, we all relaxed. And I promptly became sick! That is after I had helped my hostess put away about two weeks worth of laundry. I saw a doctor, and he took care of my problem . . . so we left . . . off through the High Desert.

The High Desert is really lovely . . . Joshua Tree National Monument, quail and wild cottontails, big rocks to climb—and there are actually MORE than twenty-nine palms!

The old Irish Setter and I got up to see the sunrise above the blue mountains and to feel it warm up from crispy mountain temperature to the desert temperature. As a matter of fact, the Irish Setter enjoyed it so much he forgot himself and started frisking about with a Great Dane. The next thing I saw made me laugh out loud. It was the sight of a huge setter sitting down, mumbling something about the beautiful view as an immense Great Dane towered above him staring down at him with a "Don't make a flase move, friend" attitude about him.

It was advised that the best route to San Francisco would be up through the back country . . . no fog. Desolate, but a place where you can put your foot on the accelerator and sit back and enjoy the openness of it all. We drove through Amboy—nothing much there for a passing tourist—and started toward Barstow. The next stop was a check point for people coming into the State (you know: Do you have any fresh fruit, plants, etc.) We had none of those, but we did have this dog and this cat. Both of them were sleeping in the back seat. The officials had a hardy laugh. "Joe, come over on here and take a look at this!" General hilarity.

I wonder how many of you have been to Mojave? Where is it? Well, it is very close to Boron! And I liked it there. It is also near Edwards Air Force Base (very secret) and is the home of that famous Borax mule team.

After leaving Mojave we found ourselves in a tremendous traffic jam. They were working on the road through the Tehachapi Pass. I do believe we spent three hours there. Luckily I had a good book with me, John Steinbeck's Long Valley as a matter of fact. Time passed relatively quick. But not for the cat! All those big construction trucks rumbling by, all that noise? He retired underneath the front seat.

And in the meantime 'though stalled momentarily, the Long Valley was calling us—with possible side trip to the Monterey Peninsula? No, no, musn't think of that. Oh to San Francisco.

But of course we had to get to Bakersfield first. When we arrived in Bakersfield, there was fog and drizzle.

We took a side road to Paso Robles. Have you seen the oaks as you come in from the East? Lovely, lovely. But to get back to the side road. This is where my cat decided to be sick, much to the disgust of the Setter and myself. I mean—stopping every fifteen minutes to clean up the sand box? And it was a farm road—and there were trucks—and there were a couple of cars with young men in them. The young men thought it would be fun to bump me off the road, until they had a look at a huge red dog raising his ugly head and demanding to know what was going on. Nothing was going on. The young men left.

Believe it or not, we finally arrived in San Jose. Isn't that exciting? It was to us. Of course, about this time it started to rain. Through the rain we went, won- (Continued on Page Twelve)

PARTY PLANS . . .

"Go-Go Recipes for Weekend Trips

With a great long weekend coming up for Memorial Day, and trout season too, perhaps you'll be lucky enough to be included on a go-away instead of stay-at-home gathering. It will depend on which promises to be the most fun and the least trouble . . . and if there is someplace to visit!

For people on the go, Party Plans suggests baking a casserole or two at home and reheating at the mountain or beach cabin. Or, if you are just beach fans or backyard enthusiasts, the pre-baking and reheating still holds. But most of all these recipes are for the family off to re-open their summer cottage. This is also known as Rain or Shine Cookery, or shall we say, Cook-in-Or-Cook-Out. The casserole can be reheated over an outdoor grill, if well covered in double foil not too near the coals.

Let's start with this

Bake-and-Take Casserole
(Serves 6; why not make 2 batches?)

One and a fourth cups shredded pasteurized American cheese; 2 (7-oz., each) cans chicken or tuna; 1 small jar pimiento slices; 1/2 cup Romano grated cheese; black pepper and salt to taste; 2 (4-oz., each) cans sliced mushrooms with juice; 1 large onion, finely chopped or equivalent in dried onion flakes; 3 tbsps. butter; 1 cup milk; 1 cup finely rolled saltines.

Combine American cheese with the next 4 ingredients. Saute mushrooms and onion in half the butter briefly. Add chicken or tuna; toss lightly. Turn into casserole. Pour milk over. Sprinkle with remaining cheese, then cracker crumbs which have been lightly browned in remaining butter. Bake in preheated 375 oven for about 30 minutes. Prepare this traveling casserole early in the day of the trip, or better still, the night before in which case refrigerate overnight. To get on the go, seal the casserole and cover together with adhesive, wrap in many layers of newspaper unless you own one of the new thermos-controlled serving dishes. Or else, turn the ingredients into a baking dish, sprinkle cheese and cover securely. Add browned crumbs and canned milk after arrival at cabin just before baking there.

Here is another do it ahead and bake at destination dish: This one is in honor of the "The Year of the Pickle." Members of Pickle Packers International, Inc. just celebrated their annual meeting at the Highlands Inn in Carmel Highlands and this was the prize recipe given to Party Plans.

Pickle Lamb Cakes

(Makes 12 cakes, about 6 servings)

Two lbs. ground lamb; 1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs; 1 egg; 1/2 cup undrained sweet pickle relish; 1/3 cup chopped onion; 3/4 cup milk; salt to taste (about 1 1/2 tps.) 1/2 tsp. each, oregano, and garlic powder; ground pepper to taste; 3 to 4 cups mashed potatoes (use about 3 lbs. potatoes or 1 pkg. (6 oz.); 12 small sweet gherkins and carrot slices as garnishes.

Mix together lamb, bread crumbs, egg, relish, onion, milk and seasonings. Press into 12 3-inch muffin pans. After arrival at cabin, bake in 350 F. oven for 40 min. Drain off drippings. Place meat muffins on plank. Pipe mashed potatoes around edge of plank and on top of each muffin. Broil about 4 minutes or until potatoes, dotted with butter, are browned. You can actually bake the meat muffins at home, wrap them in foil and heat with potato-piping on plank when ready to serve . . . after you have had the following rain-or-shine hors d'oeuvres cooked on your miniature charcoal-fired hibachi. The thoughtful hostess assembles quick-cooking food (to be toasted) on paper platters, hibachi bamboo-sticks or skewers, plenty of heavy paper napkins and keeps a watchful eye on the little fire boxes. Examples are: Cubes of canned luncheon meat; small wieners or cocktail sausages; chicken livers, cut in pieces and wrapped at home in partly-cooked bacon then into their own foil packets. When ready to serve (after cooking at campsite) remove from foil and spear each with picks. Provide a platter of nibblers such as carrot curls, cucumber and celery sticks, ripe olives, cubes of cheese, dill and sweet gherkins, pickled onions and zucchini slices, also raw mushrooms caps. All these have been prepared at home, iced and wrapped in Saran and kept chilled to be enjoyed with drinks upon arrival at the home-away-from-home while waiting for the first catch of the season proudly brought in by your eager fishermen. Almost any fish fillets or small whole fish are best sauteed quickly and served with lemon or tartar sauce. Fish, especially the just-caught ones, cook quickly and are perishable. For a crisp coating, they may be dipped in seasoned flour (flour mixed with salt and pepper in a brown paper bag) or cornmeal. But the most delicate, such as trout, do not need this extra treatment.

To avoid messy cleaning-up (especially away from hot water), line the skillet with heavy duty foil. Care must be taken not to puncture the foil with a fork or edge of spatula. A piece of foil arranged tent-fashion over each skillet during frying-it should not cover tightly-will catch spatters and keep the stove clean. Melt butter or vegetable oil in skillet to cover bottoms to depth of 1/4 an inch. Heat until very hot but not smoking. Brown fish quickly on one side, lift edge with spatula and test for progress. Use spatula to turn and brown other side. The fish is done when it is brown. Test to see if it flakes. Drain on paper towels. Freshly caught fish (that's why you-all came out isn't it?) is sweet, inclined to soften quickly, and most delicately flavored. Accompaniments that contrast in flavor and texture help make even the simplest camp-style fish taste "out of this world." Best of all is to prepare a Tartar Sauce at home and bring in plentiful supply.

Tartar Sauce

Two cups mayonnaise; 2 tbsps. lemon juice; 2 tbsps. minced old-fashioned dill pickle; 1 tbsp. capers; 2 tps. minced onion; 1/2 tsp. each, fresh tarragon, rosemary and thyme or 1/4 tsp. each, of the dried herbs; 1 tsp. chopped parsley; 1/2 cup sour cream; salt and freshly ground pepper to taste. Fold all the above ingredients into the mayonnaise; pack in covered jar and refrigerate until serving.

As for dessert, the best and easiest plan is to bring home made

THE CARMEL PINE CONE-CYMBAL MAY 25, 1967 7

cookies (this isn't a chore nowadays with packaged mixes and frozen cookie rolls ready to bake) and Fudge Brownies are a never failing success even today as yesterday. Plenty of Campfire Coffee of course. Make this Memorial Day a safe and memorably happy one.

Big Sur Folk Festival

The fourth annual Big Sur Folk Festival will be presented at Big Sur Hot Springs on Wednesday and Thursday, June 28-29. The enlarged festival will feature two afternoon concerts with limited ticket sales in hopes of restoring a more intimate feeling to the outdoor event.

Both concerts, beginning at 2:00 p.m., will be held on the cliffs of Hot Springs with the Pacific Ocean and the Big Sur coast as a backdrop. Featured will be Joan Baez and her two sisters, Mimi Farina and Pauline Marden, Judy Collins, Mark Spoelstra and his new folk-rock band, Al Kooper of The Blues Project, Nancy Carlen and others.

REPORTS FROM RLS

By Chandler Meloy

Track Team Wins First Title

The Junior Varsity, led by all-around "iron men" Don Hart and Jeff Erlandson, swept past mighty Palma and Junipero to win their first CAA track crown in history. The meet, decided in the relay, was a "heart stopper" as Erlandson took the baton in third place some 15 yards behind Palma. In a sensational kick he nipped Palma on the back stretch and clinched the meet for R.L.S. Previous high for the team was 4th place. Tom Brown in the mile, Bob Bardin in the sprints, Ken Drummond in the two mile, Bill Hand in the sprints and Chuck Savitt in the 880 all had first or second places in helping the team. Don Hart was selected team captain for his all-around performance for 1967.

In varsity, with Larry Kuechler, who ran one of the most sensational miles in Northern California only two weeks ago, R.L.S. took on the strongest Palma team in history and was just nosed out. Two Palma men had six firsts and two seconds, both boys being outstanding in both sprints and hurdles. Team Captain Kirk Barr broke the league record in shot and took second in disc; strong running Kuechler, in addition to winning the mile with a new league time, won the 440. Mark Farber put on his greatest "kick" in his life, coming from third to win the 880. Don Hick and Mark Stevenson were one-two in the two mile, while Steve Covell placed in four events with a 2nd long jump and third in low hurdles as highlights. Ken Dillon had a great mile, while little Mike Eerley took a third in the pole vault, a real achievement. The great team effort, with so many 3rds, 4ths, and 5ths, contributed to making such a strong showing and a total of twelve boys qualified for State quarter finals.

In the Quarter finals, with great showings by Mark Farber and Kerk Barr in the varsity, and "guttie" runs by Don Hart and Jeff Erlandson in the hightweights, it was Kuechler who carried the day. Taking second in the mile by just a stride, Larry will go to San Jose on Saturday to represent R.L.S. in the State semi-finals. Only two other boys from our league qualified in the toughest competition (7 broken records) in Regional history.

AWARDS ASSEMBLY: The Winston Churchill Forensic Club sponsored the annual speech awards assembly, under the supervision of Club President Bill Kondrat. Speaker for the evening was Monterey Kiwanis President and owner of Radio Station KIDD, Robert Sherry. Mr. Sherry commented on the great need for communication in today's world and how vital speech was to every young person, regardless of their profession. He was introduced by Pete Cowden, W.C.F.C. Vice-President. Some 150 awards were announced and presented to the assembled student body, with the outstanding debate award to Robert Howard (24-3) and Terry Talbot (20-2). Joe Arsenio was selected as the "most valuable all-around speaker" with his service in both debate and forensics. Team Captains in debate were Bill Atkins and Smith Dungan, while forensic Captain was Donald Stillwell. Headmaster Ricklets briefly addressed the students praising their efforts and great contribution to the Stevenson School with additional warm and generous remarks to the team coach.

In three of the seven Forensic events this year, the team had 50% of all finalists. The team as a whole never placed less than (Continued on Page Twelve)

... a regular diet of information having to do with plants

This is the time when roses should be at their best. Feed them regularly and don't let them suffer from lack of moisture. As we told you earlier, if you have only a slight infestation of aphids, knock them off with water. And if ladybugs are present, let them finish off the job. Use insecticides only in case of emergency. Make water basins around your bushes and mulch to preserve moisture. Be on the lookout for suckers, the rank growth that emerges from the rootstock, below the graft. These must be removed. Roses are heavy feeders and should be fed frequently with a fertilizer that's not too high in nitrogen. A 4-6-4 analysis is very suitable. Use a dry fertilizer for longer-lasting results. Be on the lookout for die-back. Remove any dead wood. For larger blooms, pinch off lateral buds to encourage strength into the terminals. A few minutes of care at this time of the year will reward you with healthy plants and a bounty of bloom.

In the fast-growing category, among flowering shrubs, is the Princess Flower, Pleroma. This is one of the handsomest of the subtropicals. It reaches 8 or 9 feet quickly, when fed and watered properly, and is now in bloom. The showy, purple flowers keep coming on a nd on, into January. Pleramo is an evergreen, from the standpoint of being non-deciduous, but green is not exactly the color of the leaves. They are velvety, tinged with red and, as the summer wears on, take on a bronze hue. Then, in the fall, they turn red and orange. Plant in the full sun, partial shade, or full shade, but protect it from strong winds. Give it at least 6 feet of spreading room. Pleroma wants an acid soil and acid plant food. The roots like a cool, moist situation, so mulching is in order. Keep it trimmed by lopping off a branch, now and then, during the growing season. Feed with 16-20-0 until July, then with cottonseed meal and 0-10-10 until October, and 0-10-10 alone during the fall and winter months. This plant has a tendency toward being tender, so those of you in the frosty districts are thus forewarned. Superferrite iron benefits Pleroma greatly from the standpoint of producing strength and color, especially in areas where soils and water are alkaline.

Be here next week and we'll dip into the weed problems.

If we don't report the weather, then what's our weather bureau for?

Our weather bureau is for your comfort.

Most of your natural gas comes through pipelines reaching 1500 miles to Canada and Texas. And because the gas travels at 12 miles an hour, we have to know your daily requirements well in advance. A drop of just one degree in temperature means as much as 55 million more cubic feet of gas will be needed—and fast.

That's what our weather reports and forecasts are for. To make sure you and your family have all the natural gas you need—in any weather. And if bad weather does show up, it also lets us alert our electric facilities, so power crews are standing by—ready to meet the emergencies inevitably caused by storms.

Our weather bureau forecast for you is always the same: continued comfort. Plenty of light, heat and hot water. Reliable service at all times.

You'll never hear one of our weather reports, but don't worry —you won't miss a thing.

as "one of the most distinguished and versatile of American writers" and certainly he is that. His new book is called WASHINGTON, D. C. It is a novel of American politics, and of two men who dream of being elected president. The time is the McCarthy era. This is a big book and well worth the hours you will enjoy while reading it. Forget your speed reading courses and enjoy, enjoy.

From J. B. Priestly comes a new novel called IT'S AN OLD COUNTRY. The country referred to is England. This is the story of a young Australian who comes to England to search for his father. He explores the country and the reader goes with him. He meets all kinds of people in all walks of life. He finds his father, and a wife, and all ends well.

fourth, while taking second three times. There are 32 schools in the league area. This is Stevenson's second year in competition.

OTHER SPORTS: The baseball team had its highs and lows. Taking on Monte Vista they started an eight game run in eight days, by winning 10-0 with 21 stolen bases. Eric Hass, who doubled and homered, was the star along with pitcher Mike Greene. R.L.S. was nipped by Holy Cross, 8-6, defeated Junipero 5-3, beat Mora 10-7, then topped Pescadero 4-1, but were blasted twice, by Palma 18-4, and Holy Cross 13-1 in the League Tournament. Another win over Monte Vista, and the Pirates are now tied for first (their highest finish in history) with Holy Cross. A playoff is scheduled, and the boys are itching for this one.

GOLF: Both the undefeated Monterey High Team (22½-4½) and the undefeated Washington High team of San Francisco (20½-6½) met their match in the Pirate varsity golf squad, again with Hildebrand and Manning leading the winners. Bellamine, in turn, upset the Pirates 14½-12½ in 97 degree heat with a return match scheduled in the Northern California Championship in June.

SPORTS BANQUET: This Saturday, the annual Father-Son banquet, will be held, with awards, team honors and trophies being presented. Mothers and wives attending the weekend festivities will have their own dinner and social hour at the Country Club.

dering where we were, though our noses were pointed in the right direction. We were trying to find Hunter's Point. "Well, lady, you go down to where the sign says Candlestick Park. Do you know what that is?" "Oh, certainly," (she says laughingly) "Isn't that where the Dodgers play?"

"What are you, some kind of wise guy? How would you like a punch in the mouth ? ? ? ?"

"No sir, no sir, I'm a Giant fan myself."

Through the rain we went, getting lost. Finally we found Hunter's Point and my husband walking down the hill from our house, in the rain. He drove us up to a very small, very strange little home. But—there was a view of the City and the Bay Bridge and it was on a hill and that is all one needs in San Francisco.

Would you believe it actually happened? A policeman spotted a man carrying a pay phone under his arm. When asked if he was expecting a call, the man turned and ran. The officer gave chase, caught the man, and booked him on suspicion of burglary. Once behind bars, the culprit finally made his call—to his lawyer!

Other features include choice hardware, bookshelves in two rooms, hi-fi equipment and central heating. Exclusive Listing.

THREE FAMILY HOMES IN CARMEL HILLS: With prices ranging from $30,000 to $35,000, each one of the following deserves consideration from the standpoint of good dollar value:

Present dining room can be converted into third bedroom with ample dining area off living room. Expansive patio on east provides outdoor living. Priced at $35,000.

No. 2. ONLY $30,000 for a two-bedroom and two-bath home featuring a LARGE LIVING ROOM with outlook into a woodsy vista of native trees, shrubs and rock retaining wall. There are many GOOD REASONS why a purchaser should inspect this listing.

No. 3. GOLFERS

Right now our gal in the forest has seven homes priced from $49,500 to $75,500 which she thinks are real finds for real golfers. They have space for carts in the garage, are easy distance to the club, they overlook or are directly on fairways — from one you can watch the play of an entire hole on the shore course. Traditional adobe to ultra contemporary in the group, too. And if what you want isn't in the group, Fran Mauer is the greatest little truffle hound and she'll FIND it. Tell her what you want; tonight you may call her at 375-0717.

BUS RIDERS

Just step out your front door to the bus, yet be completely secluded from the street. We have a delightful garden (the fun-to-putter-in type with nice 2-bedroom home attached for $29,500. . . If you need 3 bedrooms, we have a wonderful floor plan built around a center patio and priced at just $29,750. . . If you need only a small cottage for yourself, how about two of same on a duplex-zoned lot? Live in one and let the other make the payments for you. Price 26,500.

SWIMMERS

A fascinating pool collection right now: Live on the ocean itself, but swim in an enclosed heated pool — a most unusual luxury combination. $147,500. . . Or have a pool enclosed in a solarium with a beautiful 3-bedroom home wrapped around it. Especially great for tropical gardeners. $82,500. . . For easy poolside entertaining, a great Carmel Valley set-up with cabana and service kitchen at the pool and a guest house—all separated from the house completely. $82,500. . . And possibly the most beautiful pool and setting in Carmel Valley, with really magnificent views, secluded on nearly 3 acres, adobe ranch home and guest house—a relaxed retreat at $110,000.

FAMILIES

Your riches are children, and you want convenience to schools, shopping, play areas and sun. We have 3 Carmel homes you should definitely see: 3 bedrooms, 2½ baths in a story-and-a-half home with an English flavor for $47,500. . . 4 or 5 bedrooms, 2½ baths, studio — long, low ranch style with completely enclosed yard for $47,500. Immediate occupancy. . . 4 or 5 bedrooms, 3 baths, near Carmel High at the end of a cul-de-sac, in mint condition for $49,500. Guy Stohr will be happy to give you the details tonight if you call 624-3542.

GARDENERS

Everyone who passes along Santa Lucia admires this rustic home with the beautiful flowers which are always blooming. But hidden from the view of passers-by are secluded patios with gardens of their own; and from the inside, what a pleasure to enjoy both a fascinating Point Lobos view and the garden as well. The price is $72,500. It's the first time on the market right here. Why not call Florence Harper now at 624-4517 and arrange a preview before the word gets out that this is available.

THE YOUNG IN HEART

You want something really different, but still you'd like to be right in Carmel? Drive down Dolores to the second house south of 13th Street, East side. White wall. Stunning oaks. Intrigued? The price is only $49,500. . . But if you like the Valley, and you can afford the best of everything, arrange to see the finest contemporary we've even offered — not "gimmicky" contemporary, just beautifully well done with two acres of green, irrigated pasture and white fences between you and the Valley road. 3.9 acres altogether, and priced at $149,500.

HIGHLANDERS

Three interesting and completely different possibilities at $35,000 or under right now. Also, two right on the water's edge in the $100,000 range, and a big house with a big separate studio only a few steps from a beach for $69,500. High up, looking down on exciting white water views and into verdant redwood canyons, the most beautifully done new home we've had in many a day for $80,000. Whatever the size of your pocketbook, we have something for YOU. Get started tonight by calling Tyi O'Connor at 624-7314 and tell her what price range fits your pocketbook.

TRADITIONALISTS

That handsome 2-story Normandy house glimpsed over cypress hedges and stone walls, just off Scenic Drive on Carmel Point, will be for YOU. We seldom have such a charming home with such interesting large rooms and painstaking detail in the millwork and other decorating details. All your antiques will fit beautifully in this Hugh Comstock original. You'll be surprised and delighted to learn the price is well under the $100,000 you would have guessed!

BIRD WATCHERS

Don't ask to drive by this house because you can't see a thing from the street except an attractive, well kept white house. Inside, it's probably the best reverse 2-bedroom, 2-bath floor plan in town in order to orient its living areas and decks to the secluded canyon which forms a permanent green belt to the rear. Every bird in the area will find your feeders. You're only a few blocks from town, but the "feel" is a wilderness preserve. The price is a bargain $33,500.
